GROWTH OF AREA LIMITED BY LACK OF WATER, SEWERS

The growth of Southern Alameda County is limited because of inadequate water supply and lack of sufficient sewer facilities, John I. Hennessy, executive vice-president of the Associated Home Builders of Alameda County told the members of the Centerville Lions Club at their dinner meeting Tuesday evening at the International Kitchen.

HITS HOUSING PRICES

In regard to the housing problems of the area, Hennessy told the group that the price of new homes must either come down or a greater per centage of modest priced homes must be built. In backing up his statement he said that no family can afford a home if its cost exceeds two and one-half times the annual income of the family. "The average income in Alameda County is $60 per week so the highest cost that that average family could afford for a new house would be about $7,500," he added.

He told the group that last year throughout the entire United States residential building reached its second highest peak in history and said that according to past months the record for 1948 should go even higher.

THORNBURG FETED

A startling fact revealed to the Lions was the statement by Hennessy that 20 per cent of all new homes built in the United States during the past year have been constructed in California.

At the conclusion of the talk, Dwight Thornburg, immediate past president, was presented with a plaque and past president's pin by Past President Harry Weber. President R. L. Moore presided over the meeting.

An experienced newspaper man, he started his journalistic career as a school boy in Iowa. In addition to his duties on The Register, he has also been reporting for the San Jose Mercury Herald.

The Register has not yet employed anyone to take Bill's place.

Another meeting of the board will be held for a closer study of the bid and specifications before a contract will be awarded, Wright added.

The new plant will be erected on an 8-acre site on Landing Road about two miles west of Irvington.

The members of the Irvington Sanitary Board are Leonard Freitas, William Rose, Raymond Benbow, Dr. J. H. Durham and Wright.

Also at the meeting, Mrs. Vieux gave a partial report of her trip to the convention in Texas this summer.

2 FIRE COMPANIES CALLED TO MILL

Both the Decoto and Niles fire departments Wednesday evening answered an alarm which brought three fire trucks to the Pacific States Steel Corp. plant.

There was a note of humor when the trucks arrived at the plant: the steel front gate was locked and they couldn't get in! The guard at the gate was busy getting fire extinguishers to a blazing slag pile.

When at last the trucks got inside, the fire was quickly extinguished.

Local Schools Open New Term With Record High Enrollment

Enrollment records in the nine elementary schools and Washington Union High School toppled Monday with the opening of the 1948-49 school year, with a total of 3,041 students enrolled on the opening day and late registrations expected to total nearly 200.

The first day enrollment is an increase of 188 over the first day enrollment of last year and an increase of 567 over the 1946-47 enrollment.

At Washington Union High School the registration was 637, a slight drop from the 645 of last year, but District Superintendent J. V. Goold said that there is still a large number of students who registered last spring for re-entry this fall that have not yet reported. The enrollment is expected to go well over 700.

DECOTO HIGHEST

Decoto again led the elementary schools with an enrollment of 540 and District Superintendent L. W. Musick reported that late registrations this week will put the total over the 600 mark. The first day enrollment last year was 470.

Niles Elementary School was second high with an enrollment of 500, for a marked increase over the 456 of the 1947-48 first day sign-up. District Superintendent E. Dixon Bristow reported a total of 56 in kindergarten and 80 in first grade.

In third high position on the basis of enrollment was Irvington with 320 signed up, as compared with 290 for last year. District Superintendent Gus Robertson said Monday that Miss Willie Lee Williams had been added to the teaching staff to assist in the first grade.

LARGE FIRST GRADE

Fourth highest in enrollment was Centerville with a total of 315, for an increase of six over the 309 first day enrollment of last year. District Superintendent Tom Maloney said that 42 were signed up in kindergarten.

Newark Elementary School had a first day enrollment of 303 as compared with 279 last year and District Superintendent J. I. MacGregor reported that the first grade enrollment is 60 and the kindergarten pupils number 31.

The Alvarado Elementary School first day sign-up numbered 215 for a slight increase over the 212 of last year. District Superintendent Leslie Maffey stated Monday that a large number of pupils are expected to return to school during the week.

Alviso Elementary School reported an increase from last year's 70 to a Monday sign-up of 76. District Superintendent James Nunes stated that the first grade is the largest in years with a total of 15 pupils.

DECREASE AT MISSION

Mrs. Isabel Mosely, new principal of Warm Springs Elementary School, reported that the first day enrollment at the school was 75 for an increase over the 63 of last year.

Mission San Jose Elementary School had an enrollment of 60 Monday for a slight decrease from the 66 first day enrollment of last year. N. E. Click, new principal at the school, said that late registrations are expected to boost the total to show a slight increase.

SERVICES SATURDAY FOR MRS. GONZALES

Mrs. Estafana Gonzales, 62, Decoto, died Wednesday in an Oakland hospital following a long illness.

She was a native of Mexico but had been a resident of this community for the past six years.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at the Berge Mortuary Company, Niles, at 8:30 a.m., followed by a requiem mass at Corpus Christi Church, Niles, at 9 a.m.

Interment will be at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Hayward.

DEDICATION SUNDAY

Many Washington Township Catholics will travel to Boyes Hot Springs Sunday to witness the impressive ground breaking ceremonies for the new $1,250,000 Archbishop Hanna Center for Boys.

Monsignor Fulton J. Sheen, outstanding Catholic leader and speaker, has flown to the coast from Washington, D. C., to make the dedicatory address. Monsignor Sheen will be introduced by screen actress Irene Dunne.

COMMUNITY CHEST CHAIRMEN NAMED; QUOTA OF $7,000

Warren Gravestock and Eugene Manning this week accepted the appointment as co-chairmen of the coming Washington Township Community Chest Campaign.

The announcement of the appointment was made by E. E. Enos, Chest chairman, following a meeting of the Board of Directors held last Friday evening at the Justice Court in Centerville.

Gravestock, who successfully conducted the drive last year, had declined to serve in the same capacity again this year because of added duties in civic organizations, but agreed Monday to a co-chairmanship.

Manning, a retired army colonel, is at present serving as chief registrar for the draft registration in the township but has expressed his willingness to serve the community in the new capacity.

The two men will appoint the individual community chairmen within the next few days and call for volunteer solicitors to aid in raising funds.

Enos has revealed that the quota for the drive, which opens October 1 and runs through October 22, has been set at $7,000. The quota for the township last year was $6.000.

He stated that the organizations which would receive benefits from the money raised here this year would be the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, U.S.O., Salvation Army and Travelers' Aid.

MISSION EXPECTS FIRE RATE DROP

Recent improvements on the water system of the Alameda County Water District throughout Mission San Jose will bring about a more favorable fire insurance rating, it was reported this week by Maurice B. Marks, Mission insurance broker.

Marks said that he had received a letter from the Board of Fire Underwriters of the Pacific, stating, "Our engineer will be in Mission San Jose in the near future at which time a complete new grading of the district will be made and improvements in the water system mentioned in your letter will be taken into account."

DISCUSS PAVING OF PINE STREET

The surfacing of Pine street in the Hansen Tract in Centerville came in for additional discussion at the luncheon meeting of the Centerville Chamber of Commerce Wednesday.

Suburban Homes Incorporated, developers of the tract, were supposed to have surfaced the street but the company apparently halted all operations. The Chamber has taken the initiative in proposing to the Board of Supervisors that the county take over the maintenance of the street but thus far has been unable to make much progress along those lines.

It was reported at the meeting Wednesday that a law suit has been filed against the company for the cost of surfacing the street.

The committee on Christmas lighting of the business district reported that the cost of stringing strands of lights across the street was prohibitive but made the suggestion that a large tree might be placed near the depot and decorated. No definite action was taken.

DRAFT SIGN-UP FALLS FAR BELOW EXPECTED NUMBER

With but two more days remaining for the draft registration of 18 to 26-year-old men, Registrars Eugene Manning and J. V. Goold said yesterday that the total registration for Washington Township would probably not exceed 1,200, less than half of the 2,600 expected.

At the close of hours Tuesday evening 942 men had been registered here and of that number 262 were local single, non-veteran, non-fathers. The registration will close Saturday with the sign-up of 18-year-olds. After that date all men reaching the age of 18 must report to their local draft board for registration not later than five days following their birthday.

Goold and Manning this week expressed their most sincere thanks to the local residents who volunteered their time and services in aiding in the registration. Assisting the two men were: Mrs. Maria Brazil, Centerville; Mrs. Adeline R. Santos, Centerville; Mrs. Sinnott, Decoto; Dr and Mrs. Howard Buschke, Centerville; Rev. Arthur Freeman, Centerville; Rev. Donald Kirkbride, Niles; Frank Katzer, Centerville; Warren Gravestock, Centerville; John R. Sutton, Centerville; and Judson Taylor, Newark.

COMBAT INVASION IN NEWARK AREA

In the event that you might be wondering just what type of war plane has such a name—the Alameda County Mosquito Abatement District states that the Aedas Nigromaculis is a new specie of mosquito for this area.

The report submitted by Thomas F. McGowan, assistant engineer of the district, stated, "Development of this species was successfully arrested only after concentrated effort. If permitted to become established it would require extensive changes in our present procedures with greatly increased operating costs."

Crews were rushed from the metropolitan areas to Newark to aid in the fight for control over the invaders.

Huskies Open Grid Season Oct. 1; Prospects Bright

The Washington Huskie varsity and "30" squads began workouts this week in preparation for their opening encounters against Jefferson High of Daly City at Memorial Stadium here on October 1.

Answering the initial call for varsity try-outs were more than 40 gridsters, and Coaches Jud Taylor and Clyde Voorhees, although not climbing out on any proverbial limbs, were enthusiastic about the material they will use in molding what they hope to be an S.C.V.A.L. championship team. Fourteen lettermen from last year's squad will be back in the fold. Coach Taylor said Tuesday, "We have the size and experience but only time will tell what combination that will give us."

The forward wall of the team should present a formidable appearance to all opponents this season with five lettermen back in their old positions and the seven-man line averaging 180 pounds.

In the "30" division Coach Irv Hird has a greater number of aspirants but not too strong on experience. However, judging from past seasons, he is expected to mold the young "lightweights" into a winning combination early in the season.

DECOTO DEFEATED IN RETURN GAME

The members of the Decoto Chamber of Commerce softball team are beginning to think this week that they should have rested on their laurels after defeating the San Leandro Furniture Company team two weeks ago by a score of 11 to 10.

Last Sunday on the Decoto diamond the two teams met in a return battle and the Decoto city dads suffered a stinging 16 to 6 defeat. Sam Cortez worked the mound for the localites but the visitors had a much stronger roster of hitters than saw action in the initial game.

IRVINGTON BALL TEAM TO BE FETED

The Irvington Chamber of Commerce, at a luncheon meeting held Tuesday at Roethlin's Cafe, voted the sponsorship of a buffet supper dance to be held the evening of October 2 at Maple Hall, honoring the Irvington baseball team and their ladies.

Gus Robertson, district superintendent of the Irvington Elementary School, reported that a public meeting has been called for tonight (Friday) at the school auditorium at 8 p.m. for a discussion of the proposal to establish a county junior college. Al Peixotto, a member of the Board of Trustees of the school, will preside over the meeting, which has been called by County Superintendent of Schools Vaughn Seidel.

DECOTO TEAM IDLE

The Marlo baseball team of Decoto was idle Sunday for the first time in many months because of an open date in their schedule.

SUMMON JURY FOR TRIAL AT NILES

SPORTS

DONKEY-BALL AT STADIUM MONDAY

An evening of real entertainment has been promised spectators at the donkey baseball game to be played Monday evening, September 20, at Memorial Stadium.

Meeting on the field of battle astride their long-eared mounts will be two teams representing the Niles Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Lady of Fatima Council, Y.M.I., of Mission San Jose.

Local druggists are reported to have stocked heavily on liniments and rubbing alcohol in anticipation of many bruises and sore "spots" as a result of the fray.

The game is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. and will undoubtedly end when both teams run out of substitutes.

ERRORS COSTLY; NILES BEATEN 12-2

Unearned runs against the Niles Merchants cost them the difference between victory and defeat last Sunday when they bowed to the Ashland Merchants on the Elmhurst diamond 12 to 2.

Manager Tom Pugmire's men scored two runs in the lead-off inning on a walk and singles by Guy Pugmire, Don Ledford and Shubin, but were held scoreless the remaining eight innings.

Working the mound for the localites were Joe Peters, Guy Pugmire and Junior Holderfield. The three hurlers held the opposition to eight hits but gave up six walks, while their teammates committed four costly errors.

The farm value of milk and cream to California dairymen approximated $248,366,000 in 1947, placing the state fifth in the nation.

By 1930 California walnuts had virtually displaced the imported product in United States markets.

IRVINGTON LOSES 3 TO 2 IN TENTH

The Irvington Merchants lost a hard-fought extra inning ball game on the Irvington Elementary School diamond last Sunday to the Lawrence Tile Club of Redwood City by the score of 2 to 3.

The game was scoreless the first five innings and in the sixth the Irvingtonites crowded two runs across the plate. The visitors came back in the eighth to tie up the game, and clinched the win in the extra inning.

J. Garia went the full 10 for Manager Frank Mayer and hurled a splendid game, allowing the visitors but nine scattered hits.

This Sunday at 2 p.m. the Irvingtonites will be hosts to a team entirely new in this area, the Casali & Monano club of San Francisco, and a stellar game is promised.

FLYING

The Oakland Airport was the scene of the annual air show and early Sunday morning many local flyers hit the air for the big breakfast gathering that preceded the air show. It was a great show and although the air traffic added a few grey hairs to some of the pilots, it was voted a great success. A flock of P-51 army fighters converged on "Miss Patsy" and Clyde Higuera wheeled her around and headed for the barn.

Walter Stammet was requested to display his Ercoupe and he rated a choice spot in the hangar. Others who flew to Oakland were Ruth Higuera, June Stammet, Neils Neilsen and Dr. Tom and Bernice Wilson.

Next week-end has a double-aerial feature with both Reno and Lodi staging breakfast flights and air shows. Reno is staging the Western Air Round-Up and Lodi is featuring the annual Grape Festival. With pay day just a memory, most of the local flyers will no doubt answer chow call at Lind's Airport, Lodi, at about two bells and let the lure of Dame Fortune go to the flyers who can afford to listen to her. Besides, those big mountains are full of rocks.

ENJOY CIRCUS

Isn't it wonderful when someone can make a group of tiny tots happy. That is just what happened at St. Mary of the Palms recently. To be exact, it was on August 31. This is how it began. The wholesale grocer who sells to the school said that the youngsters of the school could go free to the Ringling Brothers Circus at the Cow Palace if they could get transportation. The truck and car of the school could only accommodate a very small number, so the grocer went to Mr. Querner of the International Kitchen in Niles and told his story. Mr. Querner in turn passed it on to the Rotary Club of Niles and a Peerless Stage was engaged and paid for by them to take 50 girls and some of the sisters for chaperones. What a wonderful time was had by all. Pictures were taken of the children and the clowns and also with the elephants. The San Francisco Examiner furnished the tickets. They wished to take this opportunity to publicly thank Mr. Querner, the Rotary Club, the Examiner and their grocer for making this happy day possible.

FISHING TRIP

A fishing we will go, and believe me it was fun, for it was deep sea fishing on Wednesday for Claire Telles, Larry Telles, Elmer Rafael, Bill Fernandez, Kim McBride, Jim Weger and Henry Rego, Centerville, Irvington and Mission San Jose being represented. They went out from Princeton and brought back a very good catch.

25th ANNIVERSARY

The years do go by, full of happiness and work and raising a nice family, so on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Ed McNemar celebrated their silver anniversary at the family home with a picnic dinner served out under the trees Mr. and Mrs. John Tallent Sr. of Sonora and Johnnie and Mary Tallent Jr. of Irvington were invited guests along with Arlene, Edwin Jr. and Iris, their children. What a surprise awaited Mom for the family had gotten her a beautiful set of eight silverware.

OPERATION

Seems that ever so often someone has to give in and have a tonsilectomy. Ann Untiedt was no exception and on Thursday she went to the San Jose Hospital and had hers removed. She is doing nicely but sounds a bit off key. No school till next week, Ann.

GOOD FISHING

Bill Jibson, Johnnie Jibson, Jay Jibson and friends all enjoyed a Saturday's fishing this past week and, boy, what a catch, 182 pounds of salmon. Some beauties among them and every one caught some. Lockers and ice boxes will be full for a while. The Jibsons were former Mission folks, now of Niles.

MOVE AWAY

Grandmother Gumm of Wichita Falls, Kansas, came to visit Mrs. Janie McGowan and her children, Bobbie and Jerry. So to make grandmother happy they returned to Kansas to make their future home. Sorry to see you go, Janie, and do hope you will be happy. Don't freeze, Bobbie.

ATTEND FAIR

Even though the heat was killing at Sacramento many of our townsfolks spent at least one day at the fair in Sacramento. Among them was Mr and Mrs. Marvin Lofton and daughters, Marveen, Lola and Iris. Son Bob had gone to Sacramento the week before. They enjoyed themselves very much and Marveen sang for Jo Jo, the clown, in the kiddies section of the fair. Dan Silva was also in attendance.

VISITS FRIENDS

Mrs. Margaret Overacker is visiting friends and relatives at Dildons Beach for a few days this week.

GET DEER

Almost giving up in disgust but finally making the grade and bagging themselves a deer was Tom Santos of Burlingame and his brother, Tony, of San Jose. Tom, son-in-law of the Bottenbergs, had been out quite a number of times and then the lucky shot came. Both rifles spoke as one and down went the deer. Two large points on left and right. No meat shortage right now.

VISITS IN CITY

Miss Iris McNemar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin McNemar, sort of "snuck" away from her friends just before school and went to the big city, San Francisco to be exact, and was the house guest of Stephan and Jane Weil at the family home of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Weil, for a week.

VISIT IN SOUTH

Miss Dolores Garcia and Mrs. Isabel Garcia were southland visitors this past week where they spent a very enjoyable time at Culver City with a former school mate from Washington Union High Just Gloria is all I can remember.

SEATTLE VISITORS

CLUB MEMBERS HEAR ABOUT GHOST TOWNS

"The days of old, the days of gold, the days of '49" served as the theme for the exceedingly interesting talk given before members of the Country Club at last Tuesday's luncheon meeting, by the Reverend John Winkley, retired, of Walnut Creek.

Reverend Winkley's talk followed a welcoming address given by President Mrs. C. N. Myrick when a large crowd of members met at the International Kitchen for the fall luncheon.

"I've already explored more than 500 ghost towns in the Mother Lode area," stated Mr. Winkley, "and I have many more yet to explore." He came to Auburn from Boston University over 40 years ago and since that time has pursued his fascinating hobby of unearthing interesting facts about the old ghost mining camps and towns. He has compiled so much material, in fact, that he is presently engaged in writing a book about the subject. The book will deal with the place of the preacher in the community life of the early day Californians.

"THIS IS LONG DISTANCE"

How telephone operators route and time your calls

1. Perhaps you've wondered how your long distance calls usually go through so quickly . . . even to small, far-away places. The routing operator is one reason. A long distance operator has just asked her the route to Pilot Grove, Missouri. From her special book she finds it and flashes back . . . "MX Kansas City, TC Boonville."

2. When the call is answered, thousands of miles away, the operator placing the call slips her "toll ticket" into this device . . . known as a calculagraph. When you begin talking, she moves a lever to stamp the time on the ticket. When you hang up, a signal tells her to stamp it again . . . thus recording the length of your call.

3. Your call's roadway, to Pilot Grove—or anywhere—is kept open in this Traffic Control Center. Should major trouble occur on one route, the Center must find another to carry the calls. This is just part of our service job . . . making it possible for you to call across town, or across country, when you wish, as often as you wish.

4. When you make a telephone call, you hire a mighty servant to work for you at small cost. And that servant is more useful than ever. In the past ten years, the number of telephones on the Coast has about doubled. We're hard at it to provide more and better service for more people. And each new telephone added makes every telephone that much more valuable.

P. O. INVADED

Stranger invades Newark Post Office—Carrier crushes victim to death with bare hands and thus was snuffed out the life of a lone mouse who intruded on the clerks last Saturday morning as they tried in vain to do their work properly while he sat comfortably in the waste paper basket. But alas—did I say a lone mouse—for now can be heard the patter of tiny footsteps and the ruffling of papers as one enters the office to report for work. So, do not be too shocked if you come upon a clerk standing on the highest stool or dangling from a chandelier for they will be the victims of Mr. Mouse, who has the situation well in hand.

CHILDREN OF ST. MARY'S ATTEND CIRCUS

NILES ROTARY CLUB PROVIDES THE BUS

St. Mary of the Palms
Mission San Jose, Calif.
September 7, 1948

Dear Mr. Querner and Friends:

Thank you for sending the big bus to take us to the Circus. We had a good time on our long bus ride and more fun at the Circus.

We saw clowns, animals, and many exciting acts; two clowns sat with us and we had our pictures taken. Theresa sat on a clown's lap. Sharon fed an elephant. Barbara fed a tiny pig. We all had fun. When we said our prayers we asked God to bless all of our friends who sent the bus.

Please come to visit us at school some time.

Gratefully yours,
Nancy Brumbaugh
(2nd Grade)

And Nancy's fine letter is signed by 43 other little children—all of whom would not have been able to see the circus at the Livestock Pavilion at San Francisco on August 31 if the Niles Rotary Club had not chartered a Peerless bus to transport them. The San Francisco Examiner provided admission tickets for the children.

The above letter needs no explanation, of course. What is more thrilling to children than a circus? Happier, if possible, than the children is Harry Querner of the International Kitchen. A Rotarian, he arranged for the Niles Rotary Club to charter the bus. He thought that enabling 44 children, aged 5 to 13, to see a big circus was a good opportunity for the Rotary Club to demonstrate its motto: "Service Above Self."

AMERICAN LEGION DANCE TOMORROW

An evening of old-fashioned and modern dancing will be climaxed by light refreshments Saturday, September 18, when the Washington Township Post, American Legion, sponsors the second in a series of dances. The dancing will be held from 9 to 1 o'clock, with the supper dance at 11:30.

Everybody's favorite dances, including the waltz, schottishe, two-step, three-step, and others will be featured. Those of the younger generation who may not know the old favorites, need have no qualms about attending, for the music you be the kind that will have you learning the steps in no time.

Those who attended the first dance are eagerly awaiting this second one, for they all acclaimed it "a dance with true small-town community spirit where everybody has fun." Everybody is welcome to attend. Admission is 75 cents.

Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin have no death penalty.

OLD LANDMARK AT NEWARK REMOVED

TREES PLANTED TO COMBAT MALARIA

A well-known landmark in the heart of Newark was removed during the past week when workmen pulled out the grove of large eucalyptus trees on the two lots on Sycamore street between Thornton and Dairy avenues.

The lots, now owned by Edawrd Mara, Niles, owner of the O'Mara Furniture and Appliance Store in Newark, are being cleared of the trees to afford a site for any future business that might wish to locate there.

The huge trees were pulled over by the use of a bulldozer, and workmen spent the better part of a week in this operation.

The exact date that the trees were planted is not definitely known but several old-timers have set their age at about 75 years.

R. A. Jolly, Newark druggist, in making inquiries about the age of the trees, learned that the grove of approximately 50 trees was planted as a preventative measure against malaria.

In early pioneer days an epidemic of malaria was not at all uncommon and it was the belief that the fragrance from the trees would purify the air.

A. T. Biddle, pioneer real estate dealer in Newark, said this week that he came to the community in 1894 and the trees were at least 20 years old at that time.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY PROMENADERS

The annual election of officers of the Irvington Promenaders was held at the dancing group's meeting last Saturday evening at the Irvington Elementary School with Mr. and Mrs. N. K. Turnbow named co-presidents to head the group during the coming year.

They will succeed Mr. and Mrs. Gus Robertson. Other officers named were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Enos, vice-presidents; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dutra, secretaries; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Robbins, treasurers. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mara, Niles, will continue as instructors of the group.

MADAME BUTTERFLY TO BE IN SAN JOSE

The San Francisco Opera Company, second to none in the world, makes its annual visit to San Jose under the sponsorship of the San Jose Opera Guild on Saturday night, October 2, showing Puccini's great opera, "Madame Butterfly." Licia Albanese, leading soprano of the Metropolitan, will be heard as Cho Cho San, the "Butterfly." It was in this role that Albanese made her dramatic operatic debut in Italy in 1935, and it was in this role again that she made her American debut in 1940 at the New York Metropolitan. Charles Kullman, romantic tenor of the Met, will sing Lt Pinkerton of the U. S. Navy, who goes through the mock marriage with the little "Butterfly;" Herta Glaz will sing Suzuki, the contralto role, and Francesco Valentino, baritone, will appear as the United States Consul, Sharpless.

"Madame Butterfly" is a favorite opera, receiving from six to eight performances yearly at the Metropolitan.

Tickets for the San Francisco Opera Company in San Jose on October 2 are on sale at the Denny-Watrous box office, San Jose auditorium.

SILVA-SANTOS NUPTIALS SOLEMNIZED LAST SUNDAY AT ST. EDWARD'S CHURCH

By THELMA McNIEVE

Miss Beatrice Silva became the bride of Mr. Raymond Santos at a two o'clock wedding at the St. Edward's Church in Newark on September 12, with the Reverend J. J. McLaughlin officiating.

The bride was escorted to the altar on the arm of her father, Mr. Domingos Silva, dressed in a lovely white satin gown, simple in detail and offset by a collar effect design just below the square neck-line. The full skirt cascaded into a long train. She wore an exquisite long veil trimmed with lace with the head dress designed in a bonnet effect. She carried a white orchid.

Preceding the bride to the altar was the bridal party: Miss Marjorie Santos, Miss Patricia Lopez and the honor attendant, the bride's sister, Miss Laura Silva. Flower girl was little Miss Veronica Silva and ring-bearer was Peter Figurate. Aqua blue brocaded satin was worn by the attendants with matching picture hats and gloves. The honor attendant's costume differed in that it was of yellow brocade satin. They all carried French bouquets of pink and yellow carnations. The two little attendants were very sweet in white satin.

Mrs. Urben Santos, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a black gown and black accessories offset with deep red gloves and a corsage of red begonias.

Best man honors were performed by Urben Santos Jr., brother of the groom. Ushers were Norman Silva and Bud Condon.

The benedict is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Urben Santos of Hayward.

Prior to the wedding ceremony, Mr. Brum of Hayward sang a solo, "Mother Dear, O Pray for Me," dedicated to Mrs. Silva, mother of the bride, and as the bridal party gathered at the church, "Panis Angelicus" was sung honoring the bride. Ed Kettman was organist.

A reception followed at the Newark Pavilion, and the just weds left for a week's honeymoon, destination unknown.

JOE BAUHOFER CLAIMS AUSTRALIAN BRIDE IN CEREMONIES PERFORMED LAST SUNDAY

A war-time romance that began in Australia culminated in wedding bells last Sunday when Joe Bauhofer of Centerville claimed as his bride the former Lorna Jones of Brisbane, Australia.

The ceremony was performed at 6:30 at the Lutheran Church in Hayward, and was followed by a reception at Roethlin's in Irvingtin which was attended by about 200 friends and relatives of the popular young couple.

The bride, walking down the aisle on the arm of Mr. Rudy Schneider, a friend from Oakland, was lovely in a white satin grown with finger-tip veil held in place by a coronet of gardenias and bouvardia. She carried a bouquet of the same flowers.

Mrs. Lily Wipfli, matron of honor, wore a pale green taffeta frock and carried a bouquet of lavendar gladiolas, and the bridesmaid, Mrs. Eugene Ramsell, wore a lavendar gown and carried yellow gladiolas.

The little flower girl, Carol Bauhofer, was in pale green taffeta and on her hair was a crown of carnations and baby roses. Her old-fashioned bouquet was of the same flowers.

Mrs. Joseph Bauhofer, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a fuschia-colored crepe afternoon gown and wore a corsage of white gladiolas.

William Bauhofer did best man honors for his brother and Eugene Ramsell performed the duties of usher.

The justweds are motoring up north to Washington for their honeymoon and expect to return in about a month's time to make their temporary home in the Kirkish Apartment in Centerville. The benedict is associated in the creamery and dairy business with his father and brother.

CHAPEL OF COLLEGE OF PACIFIC IS SETTING FOR TRUSCOTT-BERLINGEN NUPTIALS

The beautiful white satin gown worn by Miss Jacqueline Berlingen of Stockton, Sunday evening, when she became the bride of Dr. John Ray Truscott of Newark, was enhanced by the striking floral decor of the Morris Chapel at the College of the Pacific where the couple exchanged vows at a seven o'clock ceremony. Bishop W. T. Webb of Hayward performed the rites.

Jacqueline made a lovely picture as she walked up the aisle between pew bouquets of white stock, ferns and white gladiolas, tied with white satin streamers. Her gown was fashioned with a moulded bodice and long, tight sleeves. The neckline was beaded in seed pearls and a coronet of seed pearls held in place a long veil. She carried a white bible and a bouquet of white orchids.

The maid of honor, Miss Constance Chalmers of Stockton, was attired in a blue brocaded satin gown, carrying an old-fashioned bouquet of pink carnations. The same flowers comprised the head piece. Pink brocaded satin was worn by the other two attendants, Vivian King of Centerville and Theresa Stanaland of Hayward, and their head pieces were of blue carnations.

Mrs. Bernard Berlingen, mother of the bride, selected a blond satin afternoon dress for her daughter's wedding, and with it wore an orchid corsage.

Mrs. J. R. Truscott, mother of the bridegroom, wore a soft wine-colored crepe, also with orchid corsage.

Assuming the duties of best man was Dr. Reginald Flieschman of Oakland, and ushering were Clifford Costa and Robert M. Scott, both of Newark.

The wedding reception was held at the bride's home in Stockton, and the justweds greeted over 200 of their friends.

The new Mrs. Truscott was educated at Stockton schools and at San Jose State where she will complete her education by next spring.

Dr. Truscott, a graduate of Washington High, attended the University of Wisconsin and graduated from the California College of Chiropractics in Oakland. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Truscott of Newark.

LORETTA PIERCE BRIDE OF NORBERT GEORGE AT NEWARK CEREMONY SUNDAY

By THELMA McNIEVE

The lovely picture Miss Loretta Pierce made as she walked down the aisle of the St. Edward's Church on the arm of her grandfather, Mr. Theodore Ennes, who gave her in marriage on Sunday, September 12, when she became the bride of Mr. Norbert George, was enhanced by the beauty of the altar. Never more beautifully decorated was the church with stately white stocks and gladiolis. On either side of the entrance to the altar exquisite baskets of gladiolas were arranged and just beyond them tall candleabras burned. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. J. McLaughlin. The flower arrangements for the wedding were done jointly by Miss Pierce and Miss Beatrice Silva who became the two o'clock bride of Raymond Santos.

Loretta's white satin gown was designed in the period mode. The molded bodice was buttoned down the back and the sleeves long and tightly fitted. The net yoke was offset by gathered satin which gave an off-the-shoulder effect. The skirt was full and either side was tucked up and held in place with clusters of lilies of the valley, allowing a ruffled skirt effect to show and ended in a court train. She wore a fingertip veil of tulle with edgings of lace and designed with a halo of seed pearls. She carried rosary beeds with a prayer book and marker of white baby orchids. A single strand of pearls completed the picture.

Preceding the bride to the altar was the matron-of-honor, Mrs. Roselene Pierce. She wore a gown of blue marquisette with matching crownless picture hat and gloves. She carried a shower bouquet of deep yellow roses and pink bouvardia.

Mrs. John Salter, mother of the bride, selected a grey suit with black accessories and an orchid corsage.

Assuming the duties of best man for the benedict was his future brother-in-law, Mr. Emile Pierce.

Organist for the wedding was Edward Kettman and soloist, Miss Loretta Lewis of Niles, sang the "Ave Maria."

A reception followed immediately after the wedding at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Salter of Ash street, Newark.

Leaving on a week's honeymoon trip, the destination of which was not revealed, the bride wore a tailored maroon gabardine suit, with black accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel George of Centerville.

Party in Rhyme

Not often do little girls have the honor of having a poem written for them in commemoration of their birthday. Little Miss Jacqueline Marie Walker is among the lucky ones, however, for she had a poem written in observance of her eighth birthday; and it was written by her own great-grandmother, Mrs. Carrie E. Joseph of Newark. This is what Mrs. Joseph wrote:

Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Pool entertain some twenty little friends at their home today
In honor of Jacqueline Marie's eighth birthday
And now they gather in the back yard to play
To see a circus tent all decked with flags, balloons, and everything gay.
And on a decorated table a large merry-go-round, birthday cake and a three-ring circus we see.
Candy, soda pop, pop-corn and little prize gifts free
Now the radio strikes up "Round the Mulberry Bush" and "Bozo the Clown"
They are so happy as they play and sing round and round.
But listen, the radio is playing "Happy Birthday, Jacqueline Marie"
So they blow the candles out and cut the cake and wonder what next they will see.
Well, it's to open the gifts and say thank-you, she is happy as can be
As she opens each package they all are thrilled with glee
So now they are seated at the table to eat
Ice cream and some of that merry-go-round cake—what a treat!
But now it is time for all to leave so they bid Jacquie adieu,
Wishing her many more happy birthdays all the years through.

Return Home

Commander and Mrs. Ralph Robinson of Niles returned home recently after a jaunt that took them to several different interesting spots in the west. They motored as far as Yellowstone, their trip covering 3,000 miles altogether, and "the weather was delightfully cool all the way."

LOCAL NEWLYWEDS, MARRIED SUNDAY, NOW TOURING IN THE NORTHWEST

By LOIS BOTTENBERG

In a flower decked church in Mission San Jose on Sunday, September 12, Miss Virginia Joanne Lawrence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lawrence, was given in marriage by her father to Robert Oliveria, son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Oliveria of Centerville, at a double ring ceremony with Rev. John Leal officiating.

To organ music played by Miss Regina Schneider, the bride, lovely as a flower in a white satin and lace formal, long net and lace trimmed train caught at the hairline with orange blossoms, moved slowly down the aisle on the arm of her father. She carried a white prayer book on which rested one large orchid and three baby orchids on ribbon streamers. Her bridesmaid, Miss Evelyn Meyers, was beautifully gowned in yellow marquisette, large picture hat of yellow with a lovely bouquet of pompom chrysanthemums of yellow and orchid. The groom was attended by his friend, Elwyn Lewis.

Immediately following the ceremony, friends and relatives went to the I.D.E.S. Hall for the reception where many beautiful gifts were on display The bride and groom cut the six-tiered bride's cake for the group and following dancing the young folks left on a two weeks' honeymoon through Oregon and northern California.

The bride's going-away suit was of a beautiful shade of teal blue with alligator accessories. They will be at home to friends at the home of his parents until after Virginia finishes a course as a beauty operator which she won as a prize at Lee Ann's Beauty Salon in Oakland. Both are graduates from Washington Union High, she of the class of '47, her of the class of '45.

BISHOP TO VISIT ST. JAMES SUNDAY

The Right Reverend Karl Morgan Block, bishop of the Diocese of California, will administer the Rite of Confirmation and will preach at the 11 o'clock service at St. James Church, Centerville, on Sunday.

This will be the first official visitation since his return from the world-wide Lambeth Conference of Angelican Bishops at London in August. It will also mark his first visitation to St. James in two years.

Rev. Arthur Freeman, church rector, pointed out this week that the Bishop will see many signs of progress—a newly painted church and Guild Hall with new foundation and roof, a rectory with new asbestos siding, new lawn, and in the interior of the church there are new floor coverings, individual lights, new altar linens and vessels, including a set of three branched candlesticks recently given by the Guild. A new stove and dishes have been purchased for the Guild kitchen. Four hundred and seventy-five dollars have been given for a memorial window. An Altar Guild and junior choir have been organized.

It was also pointed out that 1948 marks the change of status from mission to a self-supporting parish. The year has also seen an increase in church attendance, missionary gifts and the number and amount of pledges, Rector Freeman said.

NEW AAA REPRESENTATIVE FOR WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP

The California State Automobile Association has announced a new representative in this area, Rollie Chambers of Ashland. Mr. Chambers succeeds Harry Cesari, former representative, who is now connected with an insurance firm.

MY ERROR!

I hope all of you to whom I sent subscription statements will come to my aid this month. Grabbing up a handful of statements out of the bottom drawer, I failed to notice that they were LAST YEAR'S statements, with last year's price of $2.50 a year. As everybody knows, the subscription price to THE REGISTER was raised to $3 last January. Rather than billing over again with the new $3 statements, I would appreciate it if you very nice subscribers would ignore that $2.50 and send the regulation $3.

If you have ever wondered about the raise in subscription rates, let me point out to you that it was absolutely necessary as the cost of newsprint and printing costs has taken a tremendous jump.

WATCH NILES GROW!

What town in the township can boast the most new businesses in the past five years? I don't know about the other towns, but in the four and a half years we have been here I have watched the following new businesses start up in Niles:

Niles Electric Shop, The Dog Tank, Parks & DeCaen Real Estate, Ora's Apparel, Niles Shuffleboard Co., Ted's Donut Shop, Jacobsen's Paint Store, Richards and Meier Motor Co., Knodt's Floral Shop, Sletten's Dept. Store, The Ragged Robin Cafe, the Niles Furniture Co., Amelia's Dress Shop, Fay's Kiddie Shop, Greg's Beauty Shop, Emma Davi's Beauty Shop, the Niles Machine and Tool Works, Frick's Sport Shop, The Niles Fountain, Niles Radio Shop, Duffey Brothers and Stanger's Real Estate. All these! And that doesn't take in the services and repair businesses. Even at that, I have probably left out some—and will I hear about it!

For every dollar for parks California spends, another dollar has been an outright gift from public spirited citizens and groups.

WATER

"If it doesn't rain pretty heavy this winter, we all might as well pack up and move away." This remark was made to us the other day, in all sincerity, by a man who is affected by and quite thoroughly understands the water shortage problem here. And it's quite true.

In the past month or two The Register has attempted to give its readers as complete a picture as possible of the water situation.

Almost every individual with whom you talk has a different solution. Actually, there is only one solution. Rain.

There are a number of fairly immediate factors, none of which is major, which will help alleviate the shortage in future summers. These have been covered in our news stories and are, briefly: the termination of pumping water out of the township for the city of Hayward, when the Hetch-Hetchy connection is made; greater flow in Alameda Creek when the city of San Francisco brings in its new pipeline, cutting the city's requirements from Calaveras; use of the abandoned gravel pits at Niles for percolation of water into the underground gravels.

But if dry year follows dry year, these things will be of very little help.

Ultimate and permanent correction of the water shortage in this locality requires bringing in surplus water from other areas. The proposed Folsom dam on the American River is a project which would avail this part of the state with sufficient water if the federal and state governments will allocate it. And, if need is properly considered, they no doubt will allocate this water to Alameda and Santa Clara counties.

If the present water-shortage scare crystalizes opinion in the proper places sufficiently to set in motion a program of correction, then the shortage will have been a good thing.

WE TALK, THEY ACT

What's happening from day to day in Berlin, what happened at the four-power talks in Moscow, is appeasement, pure and simple, of the Russian Bear.

That, it may be recalled, is exactly what was not going to happen. We made it clear, when the air-lift to the blockaded German capital was started, that the blockade must be lifted before we would resume negotiations with Russian representatives. But negotiate we did.

We talked in Moscow and we talked in Berlin. At the moment we were discussing joint currency control in one sector of Berlin, German communists, with the backing of Russian troops, usurped constitutional government in another sector. While we talk, the Russians act.

Short of war, our tenuous foothold in Berlin, as everyone knows, cannot be defended. But we have greater stakes in Germany than Berlin. Together with France and Britain, we control the Ruhr and Western Germany. On rehabilitation of the heavily industrialized Ruhr depends the success of the Marshall Plan and the recovery of Western Europe. Its value is immeasurably greater than the pastoral land of Russia's Eastern German zone.

More than any other immediate objective, Russia wants a voice in the Ruhr's administration. Already in our course of appeasement, we have delayed unification of the Western German zones. Is concession on the Ruhr issue next on the appeasement agenda? It would be a high price indeed to pay for the right to keep on talking in Berlin.

Why California uses more rural electricity than all the other 47 States combined

The wide, rich valleys of California produce fruit and vegetables, grain and cattle, throughout the year . . . thanks to electric power. Irrigation is the most important of the many uses of electricity in rural California where more than half the nation's rural power is at work. Farm electricity is made possible by P. G and E.'s liberal policy of stringing lines into farm areas . . . by P. G. and E.'s rural electric rates, among the lowest in the nation . . . by P. G. and E.'s vast interconnected power network.

Horsepower meant just that not many years ago. For pumping was done by windmill or with animal power. It was primitive, inadequate. Then electric horsepower came to the valleys. And richness came to the dry summer fields of California.

More eggs today . . . with lighted chicken houses. Dairies milk with electricity. Rural power grinds feed, dries hay, runs electric tools. Cheap electric power means more wealth for both farms and cities in Northern and Central California.

for the record

California farms are 96% electrified . . . highest percentage in the nation.

P. G. and E. is speeding nearly 2,000,000 post-war horsepower to California 234,000 of this new horsepower already is in service.

Local Pastor Urges Religious Tolerance

The following sermon was preached recently by Mr. Richard Harris, student pastor of the Irvington Community Church. It carries a definite message to all of us who occasionally feel an intolerance for a religion that is not our own.

Comments on this sermon, or on any subject it touches, will be welcomed.—The Editor.

ACTS 10:34-48

Then Peter opened his mouth and said, Of a truth I perceive that God is no respector of persons: But in every nation, he that feareth Him and worketh righteousness, is accepted with Him.

The word which God sent unto the children of Israel, preaching peace by Jesus Christ: (He is Lord of all:) That word, I say, ye know, which was published throughout all Judea, and began from Galilee, after the baptism which John preached: How God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil; for God was with him.

And we are witnesses of all things which he did, both in the land of the Jews, and in Jerusalem; who they slew and hanged on a tree.

Him God raised up the third day, and showed him openly; Not to all the people, but unto witnesses chosen before of God, even to us, who did eat and drink with Him after He rose from the dead.

And He commanded us to preach unto the people, and to testify that it is He which was ordained of God to be the Judge of quick and dead.

To Him give all the prophets witness, that through His name whosoever believeth in Him shall receive remission of sins. While Peter yet spake these words, the Holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word.

Couched in the words of our scripture passage this morning is one of the greatest of all of Peter's sermons. It was great not from the standpoint of the number of people who heard him—for at Pentecost more than 3000 listened to him. That compared to a mere handful in the present case. And judged according to the number of those who accepted Christ and made Him Lord of their lives the number was insignificant—for here too Pentecost far exceeded this case.

Yet this sermon of Peter's marks one of the great focal points of the Christian religion. Here in the tenth chapter of Acts we find the first instance when the good news about Jesus Christ had ever been preached to anyone outside of the confines of the traditional Jewish Church.

To understand the full implication of this occurrence we must realize that Peter was a Jew in the strictest sense of the word. And all of the narrow provincialism so characteristic of the Hebrew tradition found its expression in the beliefs of this lowly fisherman.

When one considers the severe environment of Peter, one can see how outstanding it was that he would even stoop to preaching to Cornelius and his family—for he was outside of the circle of tradition, being a colonel in the Roman army.

Apparently Peter's sermon was effective, for we find the very significant words that "all of the Jewish believers who were with Peter were astonished that on the Gentiles also was poured out the gift of the Holy Spirit."

The symptoms were unmistakable—God had spoken to these pagan believers and they had undergone a profound religious experience. To say that the Jews present were astonished is probably an understatement. They were undoubtedly flabbergasted that anyone outside of the environs of the traditional Jewish Church could experience in his own life the love of Almighty God. The only road to God was via their religion and they were sole custodians of the right of way.

This unfortunately is too often a characteristic of many Christians today. Too often we think that it is impossible for anyone to experience the indwelling of Jesus Christ lest they experience it by the same methods that we ourselves did.

We feel that the type of religious experience that works for one person—namely ourselves—must also work for everyone else. And unless a person approaches God by that road, he may not approach God at all.

Honestly, isn't that rather impudent of us to try to tell God how He should handle men and their beliefs? As if we were to present God with certain procedures for winning human souls. There certainly is an abundance of evidence in the scriptures to show that an almost infinite number of roads are available that lead to the throne of Almighty God.

Look at Timothy, whose religious experience was a slow, gradual development. Lois and Eunice, his mother and grandmother, had schooled him from childhood in the basic religious beliefs, and when Timothy came face to face with Jesus Christ, it was a simple matter of transferring his loyalty to the Son of God.

Of course, some people have a violent change to make in their life when they finally make Christ the Lord of their life. Paul, who was thoroughly engrossed in the task of persecuting Christians, was actually struck blind when Jesus Christ decided to put the hand of mastership on his ilfe. For Paul it was a case of making a complete change in his religious concepts and beliefs.

And then there are some who approached God through the medium of intellectual activity. Well now, that is a perfectly legitimate approach. And our Lord Himself found it necessary to sit up with Nicodemus all night in order to explain to him the religious facts of life.

It's perfectly possible for the scientist to approach God through the medium of the test tube. Now I don't say that he'll find a loving God in that test tube, but it can very easily be his approach to God.

You know there are a number of ways for a person to cross the San Francisco Bay. You have your choice of a number of bridges and ferry crossings. And yet, no matter what means I choose to make that crossing, once I have reached the other side no one ever questions the fact that I have successfully crossed the bay.

Neither should we question the validity of another's religious experience no matter what road he has chosen to approach God.

All of this up to this point leads us to recognize a very unfortunate situation that exists within the Christian Church today. And that is the tendency of one denomination to hold in disrepute the spiritual veracity of another denomination. The practice of one group of Christians to look down their noses at another group of Christians and doubt the sincerity and profoundity of their religious experience.

There is nothing within the confines of Christiandom that weakens the message of Christ to our sick world than the inability of Christians to unify themselves at the foot of the one Cross of our Lord.

What is more stupidly pathetic than the Christian Church pleading to the world for peace and brotherhood when it is unable to establish those same principles within its own organization?

It would be just as illogical that a lecture on honesty be delivered by a confirmed thief. Or for someone who has a long record of arrests for reckless driving to conduct a course on safety on the highways. Such a proposition we greet with utter disdain, and yet attempt the very same thing as a Christian Church.

Well, you know history isn't going to wait much longer. It's time that the Church realize that its one basic fundamental belief is in the love of Almighty God toward men as shown in the selfless sacrifice of our Lord upon the cross.

And the one basic and fundamental task of the Church is to preach the idea that love, by words and actions, to the uttermost parts of the earth—to Judea, Samaria, Japan, Germany, and Russia.

Now this month there occurs an event that is as significant to Christianity as that time when Peter first preached to Cornelius and those outside of the established Jewish Church. I refer to the first meeting of the World Council of Churches in Amsterdam on August 22.

This assembly represents years and years of sincere, humble, and prayerful planning on the part of Christian leaders of 148 different communions and 42 different countries. And it also marks the first step toward the gathering together into one fold of all the Christians in the world.

Certainly there never was a time when the world so desperately needed and so despairingly waited for the message of the Christian Church as it does today. And never did the Christian Church so need to unify itself as it does today as it gathers its forces for what could well be its most powerful and far-reaching offensive.

These Church leaders need our earnest prayers in order that they might carefully and humbly resolve their shallow differences as they gather in Amsterdam. For such a task most certainly requires wisdom, and patience, and a sincere desire to reach an understanding.

Even more than that, we need to pray for ourselves. We need to seriously examine our own Christian beliefs, making sure that we cling tenaciously to those concepts that are absolutely fundamental. And believe me they are few.

And then we must prepare to give up those beliefs that, upon examination, prove to be merely gloss—only trimmings that have been added to our religion down through the years. Then I think that we will be astonished that upon other denominations also the gift of the Holy Spirit can be given.

HIGH CHATTER

By MARGARET COLE

Conditionally, this column is dedicated to the gay and teeming thousands who shattered the summer quiet of Washington High with an impact that put "first day of school" in a class with a small atom bomb.

The catch lies in the fact that you will have to help me find items to write about or you will, most certainly, become "undedicated."

And if that doesn't worry you, think how you would feel to see Washington High news squeezed into one inch of column space with just a couple of items like "Coach Taylor advises Duffie to lay off sweets and take some exercise." or "Jean and Billie seen occupying one seat at the movies."

Let's have all your personal news items, reports on amusing class incidents, things like what Teach said to the Freshman who was so ill-advised as to try to evade gym session. They do try it the first few days but already they're becoming wise to themselves. For instance, they have learned not to ask directions of upperclassmen. Remember the one who asked that Junior how to get to Room 109 and found herself pushing open the door of—well, let's draw a veil over what happened next.

Suppose we take a look at the social and athletic activities. Football is in the air, in more ways than one, and Jefferson High will be here October first to start the season off. We have a swell team this year (handsome too), and remember, kids, that we'll have to be rooting for them all the time.

A glance at the little red book in "Pop's" office brings to light some interesting information. This is not official, you understand, but it seems that the first dance of the year is to be given by the C.S.F. on October 22 As a departure from the usual program, the school band will not play at this dance because the Frank Gygax band has been offered to us by the Musicians' Union.

"Pop" welcomed "his children" back to school at a rousing assembly Monday morning. Pointing out the absence of curtains in the auditorium, he explained that we can't expect luxuries until the mortgage is paid. At this same assembly did you notice the superior lung power of the Sophomores?

Just one more Freshman incident, if you don't mind. It's impossible to resist telling of how the tables were turned on the upperclassmen. In answer to a Sophomore salutation of "Hiya Scrub!", one bright boy snapped back, "Okay, you mop!"

$50,000 SUIT FOR DEAD BULL

A recent battle in Niles Canyon between an aristocrat and a commoner, which resulted in the death of the "blue-blood" was revealed this week by a $50,000 lawsuit filed in Alameda County Court.

Mel McLaren, San Leandro auto dealer and stock fancier, asked the sum in the suit filed against the Zwissig Brothers ranch here.

McLaren alleges that his pedigreed Angus bull, named Barbarian of Hillcrest XIII, was minding his own business last June 25 when a shaggy, nameless Angus, identifiable only by the brand 9-X on his hip, broke into the pasture.

In the ensuing struggle the aristocrat was so badly wounded by the invader that he died.

Attorney Joseph F. Rankin, representing McLaren, said the $50,000 figure was based on Barbarian's market value.

MORE WILD LIFE

The most recent addition to the wild life of Canyon Heights is a large, black cormorant. Pat Nielsen found the bird, crippled, in the back yard of her house on Stenhammer Drive. Now, Oscar, as he has been christened, has settled down to a life of ease by the Neilsen fishpond. He demands fresh fish only, and for the last few days has displayed an amazing amount of temperament, refusing everything but fresh tuna. He has forgotten his old habits, apparently, and has developed a liking for slothful ease and the petting of the neighborhood children. More of Oscar next week.

IMPROVEMENT CLUB

The Improvement Club met on Tuesday evening at the home of Mouzon Matthews, president of the club. Plans were made for a community barbecue to be held on the afternoon of Sunday, September 26. Mr. Burnett, one of our newer neighbors, will be in charge of the barbecuing, assisted by a committee to be appointed by Mr. Matthews. The children are quite excited at the prospect and are preparing to help dig the pit and set up the necessary equipment, on one of the vacant lots in the development.

A number of community problems were discussed at the meeting, among them the inconvenience to Canyon Heights residents caused by the shunting of freight trains on the Western Pacific track, which crosses the only entrance to the Heights. Drivers are sometimes forced to wait from twenty to thirty minutes because the longer trains block the crossing while the shunting is in progress. Mrs. Matthews, secretary, has been empowered to get in touch with the proper officials to see if this condition can be corrected.

In addition, Mrs. Matthews has been asked to see if something can be done about installing a stop sign at the sharp turn at the entrance to Elderberry Park.

Plans for a Community Clubhouse were discussed. Nothing has been decided but it was thought desirable to keep in mind the possibility of erecting one at the site of the old oak which lies to the northeast of the development.

REBEKAH NEWS

The eighth birthday of little Willene Allen who lives at the Childrens Home, I.O.O.F., at Gilroy, was celebrated last Sunday, with a gathering of about 100 Odd Fellows, Rebekahs, Theta Rho girls, families and friends. Many gifts were taken to the little girl, among them a gift from Mrs. Laura Thane Whipple, whose grandfather, H. J. Tilden of San Francisco, was one of the early day Grand Masters of the Grand Lodge, I.O.O.F. Willene was "adopted" by the Niles Theta Rho girls about four years ago, and the members of the Niles Rebekah Lodge also claim her as their special little girl.

After a bountiful lunch, the party was shown through the beautiful home, and they then adjourned to the spacious living room where they listened to a program. Among the numbers on the program were accordion solos by Carol Pugmire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pugmire of Niles.

The Rebekah Lodges of District 53, comprising lodges of Pleasanton, Livermore and Niles, will entertain Alice M. Schultz, president of the Rebekah Assembly of California, on Friday evening, September 17. The district meeting will be preceded by a dinner in the Guild Hall of the Niles Congregational Church under the direction of the Martha Stanford Circle. The district meeting will be held at Odd Fellows Hall, Irvington, and will be under the direction of Anna Bradford, district deputy president of District 53. Alice M. Schultz, president of the Rebekah Assembly, will be the instructor.
